

STEVE COLANGELO

Age: 56

Occupation: Small Business Owner

Stockton has been severely under-served for far too long. The dysfunction, lack of action and bad decisions are destroying this great city. Stockton's politicians have led us down the wrong path, saddling us with unmanageable debt, jeopardizing the futures of our children and grandchildren. Stockton needs to be run like a business.

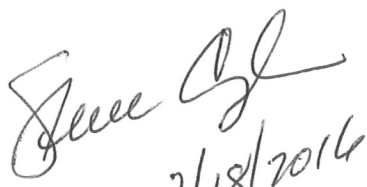

With your support, I will go to our City Council with the perspective of a businessman and fight for lower taxes, less government regulation, balancing the city budget.

I'm not a career politician. I've been a job creator for 30 years. I know what it takes to create jobs through significant personal sacrifice. I also proudly served as an auxiliary officer with the Sacramento Police Department.

Living in Stockton since 1985, I started Metro Expositions, American Convention and Exposition Services, and acquiring Galaxy Rentals, known today as American Event Rentals.

We need new job creation, incentives to keep existing jobs here and provide vocational training for students. Our schools are failing us and we need new leadership to fix this problem.

If you believe as I do that our best days are ahead of us, I'd appreciate your vote.

2/18/2014